

■ ■ Scenario: 50-person Event, $20 Ticket

Gross revenue (tickets sold) =  $50 \times $20 = $1,000$  This comparison shows how much organizers actually keep after fees and marketing spend when using Eventbrite, Humanitix, and Karm8k.

| Platform   | Fees (50 tix) | Marketing   | Total Costs | Organizer Keeps |
|------------|---------------|-------------|-------------|-----------------|
| Eventbrite | $170.50      | $300–$500 | $470–$670 | $330–$530     |
| Humanitix  | $114.50      | $300–$500 | $414–$614 | $386–$586     |
| Karm8k     | $100.00      | $0         | $100.00    | $900.00        |

■ Punchline

- Eventbrite: Takes ~half your money once you factor in fees + ads.
- Humanitix: Better on fees, but you still need to spend big on ads.
- Karm8k: One flat fee, marketing built-in, and you keep almost triple what you'd get on Eventbrite.
